AND SO WE GROW

New sights and sounds were prevalent around our school last spring when work began on the new athletic field and the outside bleachers. The William Campbell Boosters Club and patrons of the community gave their time, money, and effort to make this project possible. Members of the agricultural and shop classes gained experience by aiding in the construction of a fence surrounding the athletic grounds.

Vibrant sounds of music came forth when the William Campbell High School Band marched and presented a program of music for our first pep rally held on September 16, 1966. Marching in front of the band were the newly organized majorettes. The band and majorettes worked hard during the summer months so they would be ready to perform for our football games.

A familiar face in our faculty took a new position as principal this year. On October 15, 1966, Mr. Dennis B. Riddle succeeded Mr. James E. Strickler, who had been principal since the opening of the school.

William Campbell has grown, is growing, and will continue to grow as long as there are students and teachers willing to promote this growth.

MR. STRICKLER ENJOYS FRUITS OF RETIREMENT

Mr. James E. Strickler

On retirement, we pay homage to Mr. James E. Strickler, who became the first Principal of William Campbell High School in 1950, seventeen years ago.

From the very beginning it was Mr. Strickler, our Principal, who furnished the enthusiasm, encouragement, and support that aided in the development and growth of William Campbell. Through his venture-some spirit, ideas, and ideals, our school has reached many milestones—among the latest, the school band and a new athletic field.

On Mr. Strickler's retirement, the student body presented him with several gifts as a token of their appreciation for the service he has rendered.

Mr. Strickler, retiring Principal, and Mr. Riddle, incoming Principal, review plans for future activities at William Campbell High School.

He did his undergraduate work at Lynchburg College and his graduate work at the University of Virginia.

MR. RIDDLE MAKES DECISIONS

Mr. Riddle takes time out from his many duties as principal to pose for the photographer.

Returning to civilian life after two years of service in the Navy, Mr. Riddle attended VPI where he earned a degree in agriculture. Graduating at the end of the winter quarter in 1950, he taught one semester in the Halifax County school system. That fall, he left Halifax County and took a position at Gladys High School where he taught agriculture for the school year 1950-51. When the three schools were consolidated in the fall of 1951, Mr. Riddle joined the teaching staff of the newly built William Campbell High School. Having served as a teacher in the Agriculture Department since its founding, Mr. Riddle is well acquainted with the spirit of WC and with the students themselves. As principal, he sees that the school is run smoothly and that good student-teacher relationships are maintained.

Mr. Riddle and Mrs. Riddle with their two sons, Barney and Barry, sit for a family portrait in the Home Economics Department.

OFFICE STAFF KEEPS OFFICE RUNNING SMOOTHLY

NANCY MINIX
Virginia Commercial
Business College

Mrs. Minix has served as office secretary since 1956. She not only does her work in the office efficiently, but also is a willing listener and friend to all students. Odd jobs such as typing absentee slips, running off stencils for teachers, and helping students are done by the office workers.

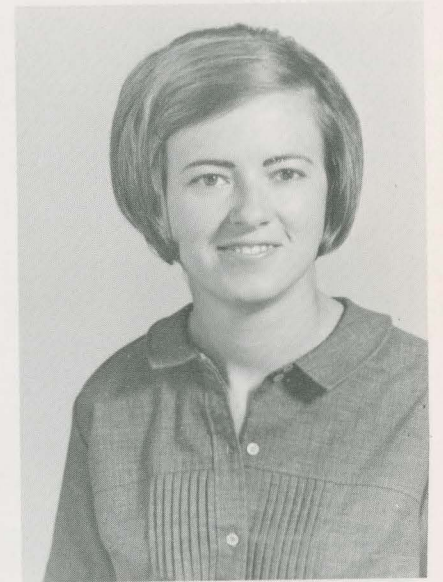

OFFICE WORKERS

Shirley Joy, Gloria Tibbs, Louise Guthrie, Jamey Coates, Paul Brizendine, and Steve Riddlebarger.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT GIVES JOB PREPARATION

Mrs. Harris gives a timed writing in shorthand.

JUDITH K. HARRIS
B.S., Pfeiffer College; Shorthand,
Typing II, General Business, Cheerleaders, Sophomore Class.

Courses in typing, shorthand, and book-keeping are taught in preparation for those who are anticipating a future in business or who are going on to college.

Mr. Goodman demonstrates the proper typing technique.

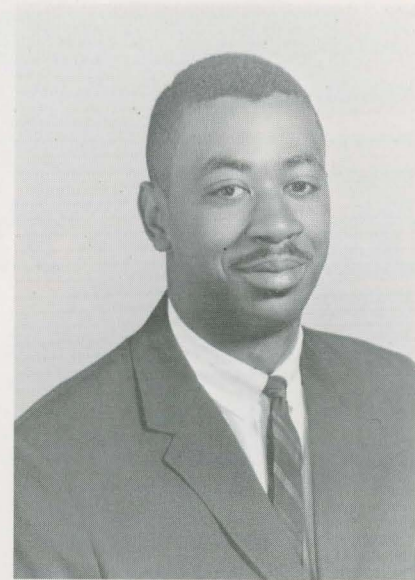

GEORGE GOODMAN, JR.

Stenotype Institute of Washington-
A.S.R., B.A., Lynchburg College; Typing, Bookkeeping, Safety Patrol.

ENGLISH DEPT. SPONSORS FORENSIC ACTIVITIES

Mr. Fred Thompson illustrates grammar sentences on the board for his freshman English class.

FRED THOMPSON
B. A., Johnson C. Smith University;
English, Freshman Class.

English is composed of words borrowed from other languages over the centuries. This blending of native and foreign words gives power to the English language and makes possible a rich variety of expression. Traditional grammar and the fundamentals of our language are stressed at WC to make this creative expression possible.

GLORIA E. MOSBY
A. B., Virginia State; English, Pre-Freshman Class.

Miss Gloria Mosby leads a class discussion of a literature story in her English 8 class.

COMMUNICATION SKILLS ARE BROADENED

FRAZIER R. SIZEMORE, JR.
B.A., Lynchburg College; English,
Senior Class, Guidance.

What is literature? To the senior, it is Shakespeare's MACBETH. To the junior, it is the study of great American authors—past and present. George Eliot's SILAS MARNER and Shakespeare's JULIUS CAESAR means literature to the sophomore. In freshman English, literature includes the study of DAVID COPPERFIELD. The eighth grade studies a variety of stories and types of literature.

Leading a discussion of MACBETH in his senior English class, Mr. Frazier Sizemore tries to relate literature of ages past to the present.

Miss Pauline Perrow and Sheila Brown, Editor-in-Chief of the newspaper, examine the first printed copy of the school paper, THE VOX DUCIS.

PAULINE PERROW
B.A., Longwood College; English, Dramatics Club, Thespian Troupe, Newspaper Staff, Freshman Class.

Having been asked to explain, Mrs. Myrtle Fore proceeds to show Bill Mitchell where to find the answer.

MYRTLE D. FORE
B. A., Lynchburg College; United States Government, English, Senior Class.

To encourage class interest in American history, Mr. Steve Phelps has Richard Adams, Dennis Laughlin, Frances Maddox, Marie Waller, and Joan Connelly conduct a panel discussion.

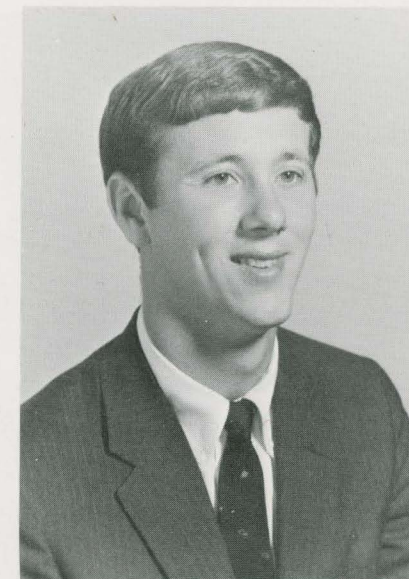

Discussing geographical resources is one of the many interesting facets of Mr. Cox's world geography class.

"Everyone knows what history is until he begins to think about it. After that, nobody knows", a great authority on the teaching of history once observed.

History is a record of man's past made, not by soldiers or statesmen, but by the historians who prepare the records. Students at WC study not only American history, but also World geography, United States government, and World history.

STEPHEN PHELPS
B.A., V.M.I.; American History, Economics, Football, J.V. Basketball, Monogram Club, Senior Class, Safety Patrol.

RONALD COX
B.A., Lynchburg College; World History, World Geography, Physical Education, Football, Baseball, Debate Team.

SCIENCE OFFERS NEW CHALLENGES

Tracing the blood through the circulatory system is just one of the fascinating studies done in Mrs. Whitlow's biology class.

Through laboratory experiments, special science projects, and courses in general science, biology, chemistry and physics, the teachers in the Science Department are able to stimulate the inquiring minds of their students.

Mrs. Straw shows Calvin Monroe, Betty Whitesell, and Richard Adams how to set up a hydrogen generator in Chemistry Class.

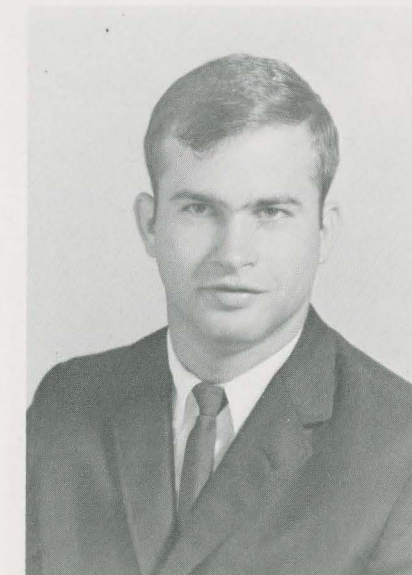

MYRTLE S. STRAW
B.S., The College of William and Mary;
Chemistry, Science, F.T.A., Science
Club, Sophomore Class.

NEW FIELDS ARE EXPLORED

ARLINE W. WHITLOW
B.S., Radford College; Biology, General Science, Science Club.

SAMUEL SELF, JR.
B.S., Lynchburg College; Eighth Grade
Science, Science Club.

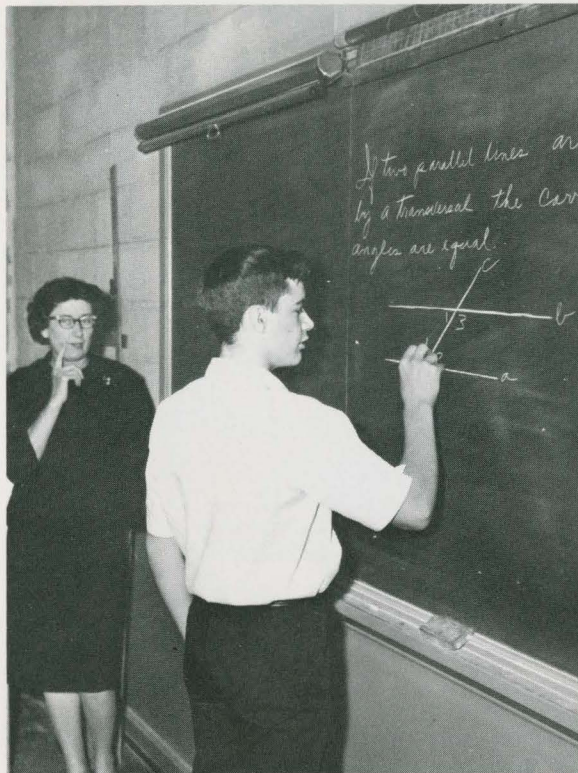

The Science department provides an opportunity for students to explore the wonders of organic and inorganic materials, the known and the unknown, the fact and the opinion, and the limits of the earth and the infinity of space. They may observe the organism of the body in biology class, or become involved in experiments in chemistry class. In physics, students attempt to penetrate the secrets of natural phenomenon by testing these for themselves through controlled experiment.

Mr. Self lectures to his General Science Class on the position of orbital bodies in space.

MATH ENCOURAGES ABSTRACT REASONING

In Geometry, students learn theorems such as the one Dwayne Yoder is writing on the board.

PAULINE MARSHALL
B.S., Radford College; Algebra, Advanced Math, Geometry, Junior Class.

Consisting of general math, Algebra I & II, geometry, and advanced math, the Math Department of WCHS provides students with a complete program of math in preparation for the business world or for continuing study in college.

Looking toward the board, Mrs. Kent explains a problem in her eighth grade General Math class.

MATH—"QUEEN OF THE SCIENCES"

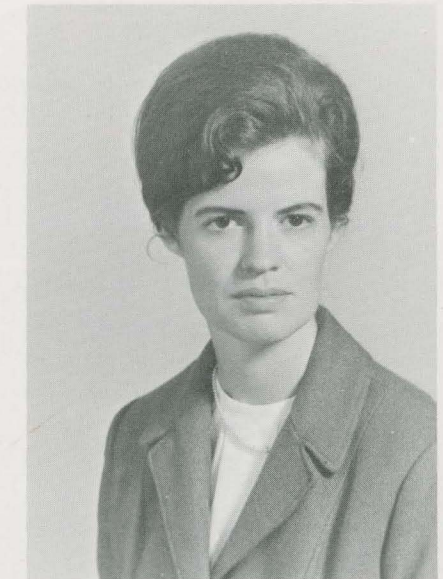

Mrs. Ramsey, who teaches primarily math, is shown here conducting an experiment in her physics class.

The study of Mathematics acquaints the students with the techniques of creative thinking and logical reasoning, and has practical applications in many essential fields of endeavor. In order to understand and study the higher sciences, such as chemistry and physics, students must have a good background in mathematics. Math is a science in itself and is a basic for many of the laws of science.

CLEO KENT
B.S., Longwood College; Mathematics Ninth Grade.

BONNIE E. RAMSEY
B.A., Lynchburg College; General Math, Algebra, Physics, J.V. Cheerleaders, Ninth Grade.

PHYSICAL FITNESS IS OUR AIM

Miss Gaerttner watches as Diane Jackson and Bonnie DeJarnette do an angel stand in tumbling, part of physical education class.

DONNA B. GAERTTNER
B.S., Miami University of Ohio, M.Ed., University of Virginia; Health, Physical Education, Basketball, Softball, Track, Monogram Club.

Included in Physical Education courses are classes in the gymnasium: basketball, baseball or softball, track, volleyball, and football. Courses taught in the classroom concern first aid, driver education, and health.

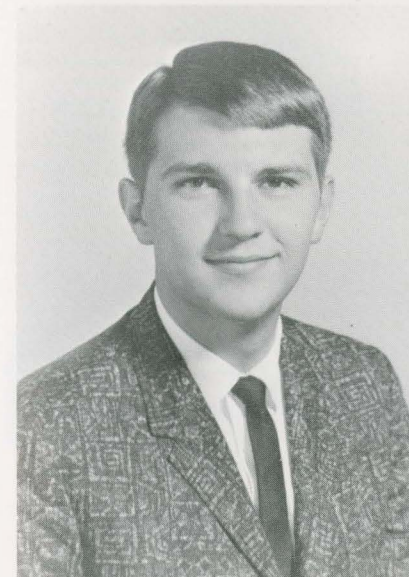

Hoping to add many more, Mr. Foley admires an already full trophy case.

MARVIN R. FOLEY
B.A., Lynchburg College; Physical Education, Basketball, Monogram Club.

FINE ARTS ENCOURAGE CREATIVE STUDENTS

C. EDWIN TEMPLES
B.S. Appalachian State Teachers College; Band, Choral Music, Forensics, Mixed Chorus.

Preparing the students with a sound, well-rounded background for creative achievement is the purpose of the Fine Arts Department. W.C. offers courses in Art as well as Music appreciation through participation in the band and choral group.

Preparing for the Christmas concert, Mr. Temples leads his band class in Christmas music.

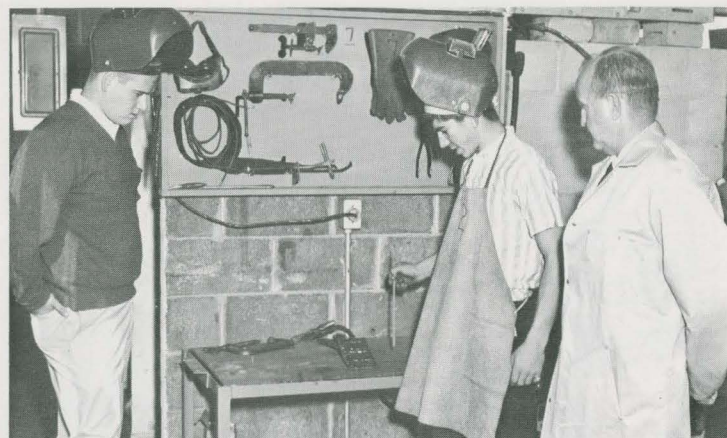

DOROTHY R. FORE
B.A., Longwood College; Math, Art, Art Club, Sophomore Class.

Mrs. Dorothy Fore decorates a bulletin board for National Education Week which was held in November.

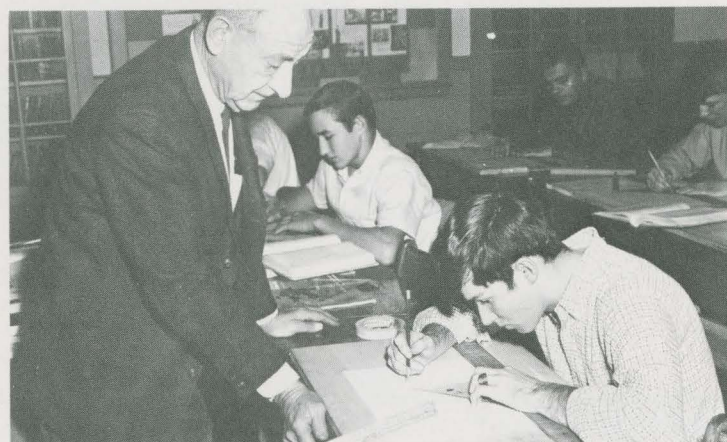

SAWDUST FLIES IN SHOP

Bill Mitchell and Randy Mitchell select tools for arc welding in shop as Mr. Kell watches.

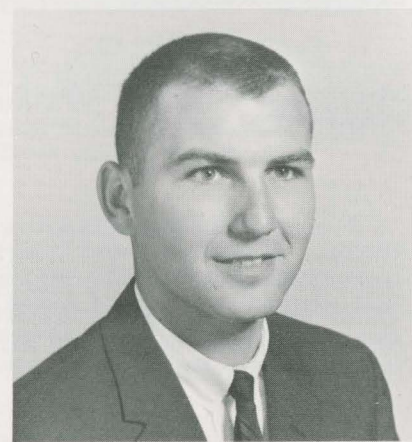

Mr. J. D. Puckette watches as Hammond Coates, Jesse Puryear, Robert Isaacs, and Lawrence Daniels finish erecting the fence surrounding the new football field.

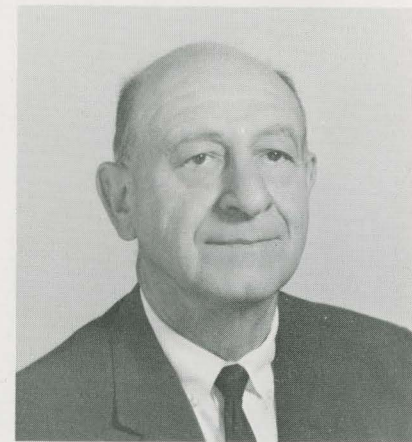

Drafting is taught by Mr. Riegel to the boys in his General Mechanics classes.

EDWARD H. KELL
B.S., V.P.I.; General Mechanics, Vocational Agriculture, F.F.A., K.V.G.

J. D. PUCKETTE
B.S., V.P.I.; Vocational Agriculture, F.F.A., K.V.G.

J. J. RIEGEL
B.S., V.P.I.; General Mechanics, Vocational Agriculture, F.F.A., K.V.G. Young Farmers.

HOME ECONOMICS TRAINS FOR THE FUTURE

CHRISTINE M. CRABTREE
B. S., Madison College; Home Economics, Geography, F. H. A., Young Homemakers.

For those students who wish to prepare themselves for vocations, William Campbell offers courses in Homemaking, Vocational Agriculture, and Shop.

How to cook is only one of the many useful things learned in Mrs. Crabtree's Home Economics classes.

Mrs. Whitlow helps the Future Homemakers plan their work toward winning of State Degrees in Homemaking. Seated are Peggy Cage, Mrs. Whitlow, Terry Lusardi, and Glenda Shutt; and standing are Gloria Tibbs and Sheila Brown.

FREIDA H. WHITLOW
B.S., Longwood College; Home Economics, F.H.A., Young Homemakers.

LANGUAGES INCREASE UNDERSTANDING

In teaching Latin, Mrs. Guthrie endeavors to show how Latin influenced not only language and literature, but life today.

ELSIE PAYNE GUTHRIE
Applicant for B.A., Westhampton College; Latin, Elementary Music, Latin Club, Beta Club, Eighth Grade.

Through the study of the Spanish language, students not only learn to speak the language, but also learn to understand the people and their culture. The study of Latin and the Roman culture points out how much we are influenced by things of the past.

In second year Spanish, Kitty Arrowood, Em Harper and Glen Guthrie help Mrs. Booker hang a poster advertising a bull fight, one of Mexico's main sports.

CAROLYN BOOKER
B.A., cum laude, Lynchburg College; English, Spanish, Guidance, Spanish Club, Annual Staff, Junior Class.

GUIDANCE COUNSELOR GIVES EXPERT ADVICE

Many juniors take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test to determine their scholastic ability. Mrs. Mary Maddox, guidance counselor, explains the PSAT scores to Joan Connelly.

Mrs. Maddox helps seniors, Billy Herndon and Steve Holt, decide which college will be the best suited for their needs through the use of the IBM College View-Finder.

Students at WC have the full time services of a well qualified guidance counselor. They are guided in choosing courses which will provide them with a well-rounded education and will give them a foundation on which to build either in college or in the business world.

MARY M. MADDOX
B. S., Longwood College; Guidance, Student Cooperative Association.

Mrs. Lusardi types up an order for new books for the library.

CAROLYN LUSARDI
B.A., The College of William and Mary; Librarian, Library Club, Projectionist Club.

Having recently added new book shelves, the library of WCHS is well equipped to meet the reading and research needs of the students. If they need assistance in finding books or information, Mrs. Lusardi is available and always ready to help. She also assists in the distribution of audio-visual aids for the faculty.

Always willing to help the student, Mrs. Lusardi assists Diane Tuck in finding a book to suit her tastes.

The William Campbell High School Students Cooperative Association is affiliated with the Lynchburg District S.C.A. and the State S.C.A. both of which meet annually. The membership includes all high school students from grade eight through twelve and holds its meetings monthly in the school gymnasium. The S.C.A. projects vary from year to year but are designed to promote better citizenship, to recognize scholarship to promote greater understanding between student and faculty, to provide for exchange of ideas among schools, and to secure good school publicity.

Mr. Edwin Temples awards a Selmo to Cynthia Burch for being high salesman in the magazine drive. Cynthia, who also received a camera, sold $49.00 worth of magazines.

IN CHATHAM GAME

District Scoring Record Sighted By Randy Minix

By DAVE THORNTON

It's a shame that the William Campbell High School gymnasium at Naruna will only seat 600 fans.

There will be a good deal more than that number who will want to witness the Generals' game with the Chatham Cavaliers Saturday night.

William Campbell will be going for its 12th straight victory this season and is a big favorite over the once-victorious Cavaliers but who wins the game won't be the prime interest of the General fans.

They want to see if the Generals' senior scoring star Randy Minix, will become the greatest scorer in the history of District IV.

Just eight years ago, another William Campbell standout, Buddy Booker, finished his scholastic career with 1,369 points which—as far as anybody knows—is the district record.

Minix, a slender 6-1, 175 pound sharpshooter, will carry 1,354 career points into the Saturday contest with Chatham and unless he gets hurt or has a bad scoring game, he is a cinch to score 16 or more points and set a school record as well as a new district mark.

Then he will have six more regular season games and the tournament to add to the record, which undoubtedly will be 1,500 or more points before Minix takes off his uniform this year.

While Minix and his General teammates are taking the night off Friday, another district star—Nowlin Wingfield will be trying to break into the select 1,000 point circle as the Amherst Lancers play host to the scrappy Staunton River Golden Eagles.

Wingfield, who has accepted a scholarship to VPI, has amassed 952 points in his four years as a Lancer cager and may possibly go over the four figure mark this weekend.

In other district tilts Friday night, the red-hot Nelson County quintet entertains Brookville, Rustburg has a date at Appomattox, Dan River travels to Tunstall and Chatham goes to Gretna.

Saturday's court action will find Rustburg moving into the Brookville gym, Gretna visits at Altavista, Amherst goes south to Dan River, Nelson has a date at home with non-conference Fluvanna and Tunstall entertains the Hargrave "B" team.

The Nelson County Governors, who have become the talk of the district, hope that the struggling Staunton River five can upset the Lancers while they are taking care of the Bees Friday night. Should this situation develop, the Lovingson quintet would take over the top spot in the Northern Division with a 9-2 district slate and a 10-2 overall mark.

A loss would leave Amherst with a 6-2 district slate and an 8-2 overall record. However, coach Don Thompson's Lancers are favored over the Eagles, whose shooting deserted them last weekend (34 per cent and 27 per cent in two games) and their record fell to 3-6 overall and 1-5 in the district.

Rustburg, 6-5 in the district, has a strong hold on third place in the northern zone, and is a heavy favorite over the lowly Rebels (1-9). Tunstall is a slight favorite over Dan River and Gretna gets the nod over Chatham in Friday tilts.

Altavista, idle on Friday, is still on the heels of the Generals with their 10-2 district mark to though they are not expected to gain any ground on WC this weekend. The Generals are heavy favorites over Chatham and Altavista figures to get by Gretna Saturday night.
